

The People's Column

It has been said that when men become mighty, the background of a mother touch is always seen. She is the inspiration of all virtues.

Sunday was Mother's Day, its observance demanding some act of kindness, gift or tribute in remembrance of mother. Sue Haswell Park is a lasting tribute to a Bryan mother.

There are innumerable demands upon the citizenry of every community. The pressure for the ordinary and immediate requirements are terrific, and I might add, justified. All the more is praise due to the courage and the vision of those who without pressure gladly come forward to satisfy the hunger of the community to have food and recreation supplied for their minds under adequate conditions and in beautiful surroundings. This in the last analysis, could not have been realized but for the generosity of one of Bryan's philanthropic citizens.

Praise I now give to Tyler Haswell, a man whom the entire City of Bryan delight to honor, a man who exemplifies the best tradition of Bryan, but not content to live on this past translates these traditions into active service for the present and the future. He has ever had at heart the best interests of his city and he has seen to it that his name and that of his sainted mother will be perpetuated as long as time endures. Tyler Haswell built well when he conceived the park plan, in his efforts in behalf of the city he loved and the people he tried best to serve. And Bryan citizenry fully appreciates this priceless gift. It is not necessary for me to describe the uses of the park to you because, when you enter it the park will speak for itself. Nor is it my purpose to delve into the advantages of what the gift will mean to the city of Bryan and its possibilities.

I recall with great interest the day the park was dedicated. As fair and bright as that beautiful day a career of usefulness for this great gift opened out before us. A gift for all time, to make life richer, fuller, more varied, more interesting, more helpful. Words fail to express the full measure of gratitude that filled the hearts of those present, the people were unanimous in their praise for that farsighted, benevolent donor whose love of mother, generosity without stint, had enabled Bryan to reach this auspicious and happy moment. May he live long and enjoy the realization of his idea of a city beautiful and a city useful.

Tyler Haswell was born almost within the shadow of this park. It is his dream and we today are made happy in the realization of his vision and it is my earnest and sincere hope that during his lifetime this park will be in a sense completed and it will rank as one of Bryan's greatest assets. For what was long a dream is now an accomplished fact and the park is today being enjoyed by the public and I know of no site in Bryan where natural beauty is better presented than on this very spot. And we as citizens should lend our encouragement and hearty cooperation to each and every member of the park board which has for its purpose the beautification of this, our lovely play ground.

I wish to congratulate this board who so unselfishly and with great civic pride have devoted so much time and effort to bring about the culmination of the plans. It is one of the outstanding improvements undertaken and we should respond to every call with promptness and genuine pleasure and in this way work hand and hand with the municipal authorities and park

FORMER GOVERNOR SAYERS DIES AT AUSTIN

HAD HONORED CAREER; BUSY DESPITE AGE

Nearly 90 Yet Went To Statehouse Daily

CIVIL WAR VETERAN Was Member Pardons Board At Time of Death

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, May 15.—Former Governor Joseph D. Sayers, aged 89, died at his home here today. He was governor from 1899 to 1903. At the time of his death he was serving on the board of pardons as an appointee of Governor Moody.

In spite of his years he was active, coming to the capitol daily to pursue his duties. He became ill a few weeks ago.

The former governor, who was a native of Mississippi, had a busy and distinguished career in Texas, the state of his adoption.

He was born at Grenada, Miss., Sept. 23, 1841, the son of David and Mary Sayers and with his father came to Bastrop, Texas, in 1851. He entered the Bastrop Military Institute and served in the Confederate army from 1861 to 1865.

In 1866 the former governor was admitted to the bar and was elected a member of the Texas state senate in 1873. He was chairman of the state Democratic executive committee from 1875 to 1878 and served as lieutenant governor of the state in 1879 and 1880.

In 1885 he was elected a member of the 49th congress and served continuously in the national house until Jan. 16, 1899, when he resigned from the 55th congress. In that same year he was elected governor of Texas and served two terms. He later served as chairman of the Industrial Accident Board of Texas, occupying that position from 1913 to 1915. Later he was named to the board of pardons by Governor Moody.

Former Governor Sayers also was prominent in Masonic circles and was grand master of the order in Texas from 1875 to 1876.

This is to be an important meeting as the completion of the new Travis elementary school building in time for the opening of school in September will necessitate the organization of another Parent-Teachers Association to take care of the grade work in that new group.

Mrs. Helen Lake Clutter of Austin will speak at the meeting on county free libraries.

All P.T.A. members and all interested in P.T.A. work are invited to attend this meeting.

EX-STUDENTS ENJOY THEIR ANNUAL FEAST

MORE THAN 300 GATHER AT BANQUET TABLE IN SBISA HALL

COLLEGE STATION, May 15.—The annual senior ex-students' banquet, held Tuesday night in the banquet room at the A. and M. College of Texas mess hall, was attended by 320, including members of the present senior class, ex-students and heads of departments and officials of the college.

Short talks by former students and President T. O. Walton on a bagful of magic tricks by "Professor" McDaniels of Dallas, made up the program.

Brief announcement by W. D. Armstrong of Wharton, president of the senior class, opened the after dinner program. E. E. McQuillen, secretary of the Association of Former Students, spoke briefly outlining the general purpose of the affair, and presented in turn George W. ## Use Farm Level For Terracing Says Engineer

(Special to The Eagle)

COLLEGE STATION, May 15.—"Trying to run terrace lines by the eye instead of the farm level invariably proves disastrous, yet instances are reported nearly every month of the attempt being made," according to M. R. Bentley, farm engineer in the Extension Service. "A Tarrant county farmer tried it the other day and succeeded in drawing the water to the center of the field at the rate of a three-foot fall in 250 yards. M. C. Counts, county agent, straightened the mess out at a cost to the farmer of seven days' work, as he expressed it, 'the price of two levels.'"

"In Concho county last year Roy Terry, county agent, located three terraces on a field belonging to J. M. James, running the lines uphill, according to the boy who was helping. Lack of time prevented the building of terraces on the rest of the field, but when the rains came the boy discovered to his amazement that the terraces were true, and when harvest time came Mr. Jones gathered 23 bales from the 85 acre field. He estimated that half of it came from the terraced portion. A neighbor on similar terraced land made only 27 bales from 160 acres.

"With thousands of farm levels scattered over the state with hundreds of men besides county agents trained to use them, there is no need of botching up a field by running lines by the eye. It just can't be done," Mr. Bentley says.

WORLD BETTER NOT WORSE IS WALTON SLANT

Tells Lions Trend Is Upward Following World War

ETEX MEET SUCCESS

In Opinion of Head of Institution Seen By Thousands

"I wish to take advantage of this my first opportunity to publicly express the gratitude of the College people for the splendid cooperation of the Bryan people in bringing the business men and women of East Texas to Bryan and A. & M. College," said Dr. T. O. Walton, president of A. & M. College, prefacing his address before the Lions Club Tuesday noon.

Dr. Walton said that Representative Baldwin of Waco, one of the legislators visiting the College during the East Texas Chamber of Commerce convention and who owns a chain of some four or five newspapers in Texas, wrote an editorial upon his return to Austin in which he stated that he wished that every "jellybean" on Congress Avenue might have been with him and witnessed the exhibition of young manhood at A. & M. College. Representative Baldwin is a graduate of the University of Texas.

Dr. Walton spoke to the Club upon a subject prompted by a statement made by a father visiting the College during the past week-end, which was given over to Mothers and Dads that the world is growing worse; the United States is headed toward a decline. "It is in the minds of some," said Dr. Walton, "that since the World War we are headed downward."

Conditions Are Better The speaker brought out that we are in the midst of a change which is affecting the welfare of those we love, but that we will never know conditions as they were prior to 1914. He compared present conditions with those following the Civil war and stated that no doubt at that time there were some who had about the same ideas as some people have at this time. He said that we have seen grow from that conflict a unified South and a greater South. It is not possible to go through such a conflict without great good coming from it, he stated, and that is not speaking in favor of war. Colleges and high schools are being overrun with students of all ages. Dairy husbandry in Texas has taken on an interest that is unparalleled by other industries. Greater interest is being taken in road building and other material things. From a material standpoint we are headed toward an upward trend, instead of downward, concluded Dr. Walton.

Cadets of Allen Are Candidates For Edison Job

Two Allen Academy boys, Allen Cunningham of Austin and William L. Campbell of Dallas, have been certified to State Superintendent of Public Instruction S. M. N. Marrs as candidates for the position of representative boy from Texas to go to the Thomas Edison laboratories in competition with a boy from each other state of the Union for the position of successor to the Wizard of Menlo Park.

The competition is the result of the announcement recently by the aged inventor that he would seek an outstanding high school boy and train him in his laboratory to take his place in the operation of the vast research institution he has built up.

The Allen boys chosen by N. B. Allen, head of the institution, are regarded as outstanding students of unusual ability and the Campbell youth recently won distinction for a paper which called for much research work in chemistry.

The competition was held under the auspices of the American Chemical Society and Campbell's paper was on "National Defense." He was awarded the first state prize and his essay will go into competition with those of other state winners for national honors.

County agents from North Texas will be in attendance, bringing delegations of farmers. Greater interest will be in the wheat and other small-grain experiments conducted at the station for many years, but alfalfa, sweet clover and various other legumes will also attract attention, as they are in flourishing condition.

CRILE CLINIC IS WRECKED BY FLAMES AND MANY EXPLOSIONS

Police Report List of Dead Now Runs to 85 and That Others Injured Will Die. Flames Started in X-ray Rooms and Poison Gases Developed. Oxygen Tanks Explode

(By Associated Press) CLEVELAND, May 15.—The death toll of the Cleveland Clinic hospital tragedy late today stood at 85. The police said this figure would be increased as a number of victims in hospitals could not live. They said fatalities might reach 94. The fire has been extinguished and a search is being made of the damaged structure.

PATIENTS FILL HOSPITAL AT TIME OF DISASTER

(By Associated Press) CLEVELAND, May 15.—Fire and explosions in the Cleveland Clinic Hospital here today killed from 66 to 91 persons according to police estimates and injured scores of others.

According to firemen the fire started from explosions in the X-ray films stored in the basement. Several tanks of oxygen, compressed by heat, let go, adding to the intensity of the flames.

The hospital is a four story building operated by Dr. George Crile and was filled with patients and prominent physicians at the time of the blast.

Forty-five persons are definitely known to have lost their lives the police said.

Some of these died at hospitals where they had been rushed after being carried from the clinic.

Many were said to have been affected by deadly bromide gases from films which burn out sensitive tissues of the mouth, nose and lungs, causing the victims to bleed profusely.

The building was still ablaze this afternoon.

Dr. Crile, who is regarded as one of the foremost surgeons in the world, both in this country and abroad, and has received many honors, established the Crile Clinic, as it is familiarly known, in 1921 and the clinic hospital in 1924. It was located on Euclid avenue at 93rd street in an up-town section of Cleveland that has been taken over by business in the last ten years.

LOCAL PHYSICIAN KNOWS FOUNDER OF HOSPITAL

Dr. W. H. Oliver expressed deep regret when informed this afternoon of the tragedy at the Cleveland Clinic hospital. He stated that he knew Dr. George Crile personally and that he was regarded in this country and abroad as one of the greatest surgeons of his time. Dr. Crile had done much experimental work in overcoming surgical shock, he said, and probably knew more of goiter and had done more to perfect the operation for the most serious manifestations of this disease than any other medical man in the world.

SEVEN JURORS OBTAINED FOR ROGERS CASE

QUESTIONING CONTINUES OF TALESMEN CALLED FOR JURY DUTY

(By Associated Press) LA GRANGE, May 15.—The questioning of talesmen in the hope of obtaining a jury for the trial of Rebecca Bradley Rogers for the robbery of the Farmers National Bank at Buda was continued today. Seven jurors have been selected.

Rain and the widespread publicity former chapters have received threatened Tuesday to write another "to be continued" in the story of Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers, whose life has been a series of courtroom scenes since she was charged with robbing the Farmers' National Bank of Buda more than two years ago.

A special venire of 160, called for Mrs. Rogers' second trial for robbery with firearms, was exhausted by night after having yielded only seven jurors acceptable to both sides. Only one acceptable juror was obtained from the last eighty men examined and Judge M. C. Jeffery announced that if a special venire of fifty called for Wednesday did not contain five more acceptable jurors the case would be transferred to another court.

The special venire of fifty was called at the request of defense attorneys in spite of the fact that they had two lively arguments with the Judge which brightened up the day from the standpoint of the spectator. At one time Judge Jeffery threatened to jail Otis Rogers, husband and chief counsel for the defendant and at another time he answered an objection of the defense by threatening to transfer the case to Brownsville.

Some doubt was expressed as to the possibility of obtaining the venire of fifty, as rains have made most of the roads in the county impassable.

Cotton and Cows Is Farm Program That Will Bring Real Prosperity To Both Agriculture and Business

BY NELL BENTLEY

Scarcely thirty years after Columbus discovered America, the dawn of Texas history was ushered in by Cabeza de Vaca and Coronado, two Spanish Dons who left favored positions in the Spanish court for the hardships and adventures of the new world. It was the lure of gold and fabled riches and not their love for adventure that brought them here.

Since that day, many who have sought "easy money" in Texas have found the same disappointment that came to these early Spanish adventurers. And yet Texas has furnished no mean share of the world's wealth to those who have been willing to build values into the social structure of Texas in proportion to the manner in which they have prospered.

"Let it be the high privilege of this great and free people to establish a republic where rural pride is equal to civic pride, where men of the most refined taste and culture select the rural villa, and where the wealth that comes from the soil finds its greatest return in developing and perfecting that great domain of nature which God has given to us as an everlasting estate." — Dr. Seaman A. Knapp.

BRYAN IS HONORED

The third annual convention of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce honored Bryan by retaining a representative of this city on the board of directors of the organization that has headquarters at Longview, and that is so active in the material and social development of East Texas.

J. Webb Howell, progressive citizen, manufacturer and serving his third term as president of the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce, was elected a member of the board and the forward looking citizens of Bryan and College Station approve this selection. Mr. Howell has given much of his time and means to the development of Bryan along right lines and was unselfish in his efforts to make the recent convention that all constructively minded citizens agree it was.

The convention chose Mr. Howell to take the place vacated by Mr. E. H. Astin, who refused the nomination for re-election on account of his new duties as a member of the state prison board as well as because of the press of private business. Mr. Astin, as vice president of the East Texas organization, was in line for election to the presidency and would have been elevated to that office had he consented to stand for re-election to the directorate.

The perfection of the arrangements for the convention and the clock-like manner in which all plans planned were carried out, was the admiration of the officials and delegates of the convention as well as of thousands of visitors and credit for much of this work was given to Mr. Astin, general chairman of arrangements, and to Mr. Howell, president of the local organization, not overlooking the valuable and unselfish efforts of committee chairmen and members who looked after various and important details. The consensus of opinion was that the arrangements here were far more perfect than at any previous convention of the organization and have not been excelled by those for any other similar meeting in the history of Texas, and to the workers in the ranks, ably lead, should go the credit.

WOULD LEAVE NO REFUGE FOR THE CATTLE TICK

(From the Dallas News and endorsed by the Bryan Daily Eagle.)

If the Senate should pass and the Governor approve a measure which the House passed Thursday by the top-heavy majority of 109 to 17, Texas would be put in the way of taking a long step forward in the work of cattle tick eradication. Indeed, we might easily see the goal toward which we have been advancing for many years, but with such halts and faltering as to make it seem to many that we should never altogether free Texas of the heavy tax which the tick levies on both the cattle and dairy industries of the State.

The existing tick eradication law authorizes the Live Stock Sanitary Commission to designate counties, within defined boundaries, in which eradication shall be effected by dipping. But the defined boundaries exclude from the authority thus given it all counties lying east of the Brazos from its mouth to the northwestern point of Robertson county and south and east of a meandering line from there to the southern line of Harrison county and thence down the eastern border of the State to the Gulf. Within that roughly described area, composed of something like thirty counties, the Live Stock Sanitary Commission has had no authority to make war on the cattle tick. These the law has made an asylum for the cattle tick.

The salient provision of the bill passed by the House obliterates the line thus described and so makes all Texas the province of the Live Stock Sanitary Commission in its warfare on the tick. It may designate as a field of battle any of those counties into which it has heretofore been forbidden to go. What is comprised by designation is the authority to require the County Commissioners to build dipping vats and order dipping. All else, including the dipping, is to be supplied by the State, and at its expense. In these respects, however, the bill passed does not differ from the existing law. The operations of the commission would be limited only by the amount of funds put at its disposal.

All Texas, except for the thirty or so counties within the exempted area and eight or ten others directly to the northward, but excluded from it, has already been freed of the cattle tick. There appears no reason to doubt that, with welfare concentrated in that area, the few counties yet infested will be likewise freed before a great while.

The cattle tick is an enemy to the dairy industry; there is none more menacing. The utter extermination of the tick, a practical undertaking, as experience has demonstrated, must be regarded as an indispensable prerequisite for the safeguarding and development of that industry. So long as the existence of the tick is tolerated in any county of Texas, dairy herds of all countries are menaced, despite the best precaution of quarantine regulations. It is earnestly to be hoped that the Senate will follow the example set it by the House.

Brazos Jerseys Build Up Herds In Madison Co.

Twenty-two more of Brazos county's high grade Jerseys will go to help build up the herds of Madison county, as a result of the trip here yesterday of W. H. Dupuy, county agent and J. N. Raney, secretary of the Madisonville Chamber of Commerce.

Yesterday they purchased 13 animals from Sample Brothers of Tabor, eight from the Ursuline Sisters convent and one from Geo. Johnson. Eight of the bunch were bought by Mr. Dupuy for farmers of Madison county and the others were bought by Mr. Raney for his own herd. The prices ranged from $25 for five months old calves to $175 for matured animals.

According to Mr. Raney a total of 35 head of Brazos county Jerseys have been purchased for Madison county herds in the last year. The county now boasts 16 bull rings and he said that most if not all these animals came from this country. The farmers over there are awake to the importance of dairying, Mr. Raney says, and are developing and improving their herds as rapidly as possible.

Weevil Emergence Greater Than In Last Four Years

The boll weevil emergence at College Station, prior to May 16 has been 5.18 per cent. The emergence for the same period in 1926, 1927 and 1928 was as follows: 1926, 2.45; 1927, 4.34; 1928, 0.40; 1929, 5.18. In this connection it may be noted that the emergence at this date for 1927 was 4.34 per cent and that for 1929, 5.18 per cent. In 1927 there was a very severe boll weevil infestation.

Cameron County, May 15: Mr. S. W. Clark, entomologist at Substation in Weslaco, reports that specimens of the cotton leaf worm were taken in the Brownsville section a week ago.

Hidalgo County, May 11: Counts made on cotton at Weslaco show 33.7 per cent of the plants to have one or more blasted squares caused by flea hoppers. Very few plants show more than one blasted square. Boll weevil damage is insignificant in the cotton at this place, but infestations of more than 10 per cent occur at other places according to some reports.

Prospect

PROSPECT, May 14.—The recent heavy rains have put our farmers out of commission and they are wondering what to do next. However a good season in the ground is very essential to corn, and with a few days of sunshine this important crop will be laid by.

Jim Frances of Goose Creek visited at Tabor and called on the Tullous family Saturday night. They had for their guests Sunday, Mrs. Krone and Bud Reed and wife of Bryan.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. McDonald had with them this week-end their son Bryan G. McDonald, his family, and Mrs. Laura Barnes of San Marcos. They returned to their home Monday morning. L. C. McDonald and wife, and Mary Hope Victor of East Bernard also spent Mother's Day at home, returning Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Johnson have returned from a pleasant visit of several days with relatives in Houston.

Cotton Per Acre Is Growing Less On Texas Farms

An eminent authority on agricultural matters says the per acre yields of cotton in Texas are now the lowest of any of the major cotton states.

According to this authority, "Texas still produces large yields of cotton, but this is done at the cost of an ever-increasing acreage. Ten years ago Texas only planted about 10,500,000 acres of cotton, but last year the acreage was almost 18,000,000 acres with a yield of 139 pounds of lint per acre, as against 156 pounds for the South as a whole. The Texas 10-year acreage lint production per acre is 134 pounds, or barely one-fourth of a bale per acre. Before the boll weevil came to Texas in 1896 the average yield was around 190 pounds an acre with yields of 291 pounds in 1892 and 230 and 220 pounds in 1894, 1900 and 1907. Since then the decline in yields has gone on every year, the lowest being in 1921, when it was ninety-eight pounds an acre.

"Low cotton yields have brought about increasing tenancy. The practice of burning cotton stalks and wheat straw also has helped to destroy the organic matter, which is essential to the life of the soil. Because there is no organic matter left in the black lands they can not be fertilized with commercial plant food like the cheaper sandy soils. Soils are washing away on untraced lands. Increased dairy farming, cattle raising and a changed system of farming will bring about a restoration, although it may be slow."

SILVER CASE IS HIGH POINT IN MAY TERM

Court Convened This Morning By Judge W. C. Davis

GRAND JURY CALLED

Matters Submitted Are Mostly of Minor Importance

(From Monday's Daily)

The May term of district court was convened and the grand jury impaneled this morning by District Judge W. C. Davis. This week civil cases requiring no jury will be tried and next week the petit jury will hear various cases already set down for that period and others to develop from the investigations of the grand jury.

No matters of great importance, it is reported, have been given the grand jury for investigation and the number is comparatively small. There is one murder case, in which it is charged that one negro inflicted fatal injuries on another with an iron bar, one of a negro cutting with intent to murder and a number of alleged violations of the prohibition laws and other minor offenses.

Silver Case of Interest

Most interest in the term centers about the appearance of Bob Silver and three other prisoners who escaped from Huntsville a few weeks ago. All have been indicted in Walker county for robbery with fire arms and the cases have been sent to this county on a change of venue. The papers in the cases have not been received here yet but as quickly as they arrive Judge Davis will set down the cases for trial.

The grand jury, which was impaneled this morning, and of which S. E. Dunlap was made foreman, is as follows: S. E. Dunlap, R. G. Neely, John L. Stasney, Ross Bonano, W. B. Barron, Fritz Rehner, John Barnes, F. F. Regnum, Douglas Howell, Sam Carroba, Lynn Sample and C. C. Cobb. The bailiffs are: R. Y. McFerrin, C. L. Baker, E. B. Franklin, Horace Reed, J. L. Hensarling, Ollie Orr, A. L. Smith, Henry Koonz, Otto Seaman, Joe Bomanski, W. P. Trant as door bailiff.

Petit Jurymen

Citizens of Brazos county summoned to serve on the petit jury next week, in the May term of court, and to appear in the court room at 9 o'clock, are as follows:

Lord Bacon Legacy Gerns in a Single Drop of Water

Gerns are so small that there may be as many as one billion, seven hundred million of them in a drop of water. And let a few of these tiny germs, if they get into your blood stream, be a real danger to your life. You can't see them, but you can't get rid of them. You can't see them, but you can't get rid of them. You can't see them, but you can't get rid of them.

Just because you can see no dirt in a cut does not mean that it is clean. You cannot see germs. The only safe and sane thing to do, is to thoroughly wash every cut, no matter how small, with Lord Bacon's Germicide. Kill the germs, and then dust it with Borozone Powder, to hasten the healing. Lord Bacon's Germicide costs 30 cents, 60 cents, $1.20 and $1.50; Borozone Powder, 30 cents and 60 cents. You can't see them, but you can't get rid of them.

Rodent Control Is Demonstrated In Smetana Area

Don A. Spencer of the U. S. Biological Survey in charge of rodent control, assisted County Agent C. L. Beason in conducting demonstrations in gopher control and extermination of red ants in the Smetana community Thursday. The first demonstration was near Riverside and was held for the benefit of the negro farmers of that section. Among the negro farmers attending the meeting were Charlie Hays, Joe Trigg, Sussex Sanders, Mat Bradley, Jack Wilson, Ida Baukrite, Theo Brown and Annie Bradley. The value of the demonstration may be estimated from the remark made by Mat Bradley, who stated that the information he had gained in the control of gophers and red ants was worth $20 to him. The colored farmers were told that either poison or traps would bring results in the control of gophers, the demonstration in trapping showing two gophers caught in only a few minutes. The farmers were advised to use "high life", sodium cyanide, or potassium cyanide in the control of red ants. Sodium cyanide was used in the demonstration conducted and three ant hills were killed out.

In the afternoon, demonstrations were conducted at the Smetana school, six g

SILVER CASE SENT HERE BY WALKER JUDGE

Judge Davis Will Fix
Trial Dates Early
As Possible

GUARDS TO BE ASKED

Death Penalty Sought
In Silver Case Is Belief

HUNTSVILLE, May 15.—On his own motion, Judge S. W. Dean of the Twelfth Judicial District Court Friday granted a change of venue to Bob Silver, Robert Hill, John Reed and Marvin Azbell. Judge Dean transferred the cases to Brazos County, stating that it would be impossible for the men to receive a fair trial in Walker County.

Silver and his three companions are facing charges of robbery by firearms. Silver and the three other men escaped from the Wynne State Farm on the night of April 12. They made their way to Huntsville, where they commandeered the car in which Miss Loree Harrison and Hayden Malone were sitting in front of her boarding house, and forced the couple to carry them to Houston chained together.

Chained Together
Silver, Hill and Reed were led from their little cells on solitary row Friday morning, and after being chained together, were marched down the corridor to the District Court room, under the surveillance of four guards. Azbell was brought in by himself, from Wynne Farm. Each was dressed in stripes.

When word spread that Bob Silver was in the courthouse, people rushed into the courtroom to get a glimpse of him. After reading of the indictments by District Attorney A. T. McKinney Jr., each man entered a plea of "not guilty," and Judge Dean immediately granted the change of venue.

Plans for Guard Men
News that a change of venue had been granted Silver and his companions and that the cases had been sent to Brazos County for trial caused much comment about the courthouse this morning and already some of the county officials are figuring on how the details of the trial and arrangements for guarding the quartet after they are brought here may be handled.

Judge W. C. Davis, who is the trial judge, stated this morning that he would not order the men here until possibly one day before the trial date, in order that their attorneys might have an opportunity to confer with them, and that he would ask the penitentiary officials to send at least two reliable guards, to watch over the men in the court room and in the county jail. "We want no publicity through attempted or effected escapes," said Judge Davis in speaking of this phase of the matter this morning.

After Judge Davis learns whether the four men were indicted jointly or separately he will fix the trial dates. He stated that even though they were indicted jointly they might ask for separate trials. In case the four men are tried separately he stated that he would probably set two of the cases down for one week and the other two for the week following, so that two special venues would suffice for jury duty.

Short Trials Expected
It is not expected the trials will require a great deal of time, after juries are secured, as state testimony will be brief and there is doubt if any defense testimony will be offered as no one expects any of the defendants to take the stand. It is expected, however, that the defendants will be represented by an array of counsel.

Much discussion of the purpose of trying Silver on the charge for which he was indicted, instead of keeping him in confinement and holding the indictment in abeyance, has been heard. There is an impression that the state is out for a death penalty, which is possible if he is found guilty of the charge made—that of robbery with firearms—as no other reason for trying him can be figured out as the commutation of his death sentence automatically carried a sentence of life imprisonment.

In the case of the other men, none of whom were in for life, additional punishment may be meted out and all may be sentenced to life imprisonment if found guilty as charged.

Action Regarded Compliment
Sending the case to Brazos County to be tried before Judge Davis is regarded as complimentary to the manner in which justice is administered in the courts of this county and to Judge Davis' standing as a trial judge by many who learned this morning of the action by Judge S. W. Dean.

Judge Davis has an enviable reputation among Texas judges in that he is seldom reversed. In his ten years on the bench he has been reversed but three or four times and only one of these was on the basis of error in the charge. The other reversals were on the basis that the evidence did not warrant

Bryan Glee Club Is Organized And Plans Made for Operation; Applicants Will Be Given Tests

Bryan's proposed Glee Club became a reality this week when a group of invited young people met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Locke on College Avenue at 7:30 o'clock on Thursday night. The meeting, according to the invitations issued early in the week, was a "tacky party," and as the queer looking guests arrived lots of fun was enjoyed, and introductions were some times necessary between the best of friends.

After a short period of frolic and the singing of humorous songs the purpose of the organization of a glee club was set forth in short talks by Dr. Dan Russell, Mrs. Russell and H. P. Black. The purpose was outlined as two-fold—educational and recreational. Programs to be featured by the glee club will be religious, patriotic, popular songs of high class music, and miscellaneous programs to include sentimental songs, plantation melodies, etc.

Officers for the glee club were elected as follows:

The jury finding and were criticisms of the jury rather than of the judge. In his eight years as prosecutor, before he ascended the bench, Judge Davis also made a good record. He sent more than 500 men to the penitentiary, exclusive of suspended sentences, and only two or three reversals were granted in that period based on matters over which he had charge as prosecutor.

Bryan Minister Asked to Teach At Southwestern

Rev. R. S. Marshall, pastor of the First Methodist church, who has just returned from a trip to Kentucky where he visited Mammoth and other caves, many other points of interest and visited friends, has been honored for the fourth successive year with an appointment to the summer school at Southwestern University.

As in the past, Rev. Marshall will have the undergraduate class in theology, which will run from June 4 to 14. Ministers of the Methodist church who still are doing undergraduate work make up the membership of the class.

The summer course in theology at Southwestern is the oldest in the Methodist Church South and each summer attracts many visitors both in the undergraduate and graduate schools, in the latter of which noted men from various parts of the country are called to lecture.

Brazos Schools Complete Work; But Three Open

All but three of the rural schools of Brazos county have completed their work for the year. Those still in operation are Tabor, Peach Creek and Millican and the last named is the only rural school that has a nine-month school year.

Yesterday Harvey, Steele's Store and Steep Hollow closed and all held appropriate exercises. Smetana also closed, but the formal exercises will be held Monday night.

Other schools that closed this week were Woodville and Wixon. The closing exercises at Steele's Store last night included the presentation of a play entitled "Aaron Boggs, Freshman," in which sixteen pupils took part. In addition Lena Catalana and Annie Bolman sang a duet. Three graduates from the ninth grade were Lucy Cotropia, Ethel Wallin and Jennie Marino. The closing exercises for the grammar grades were held Thursday night.

Longley Assault Will Be Probed By Madison Jury

According to word brought from Madison county Saturday by J. M. Longley, highway inspector of weights and auto licenses, and L. G. Phares, ranger attached to the highway department's law and order division, T. M. Hensarling, charged with assaulting Longley, will be brought to book on a more serious charge than that of simple assault, to which he pleaded guilty and for which he was fined $1 and costs in justice court following the attack on Longley about three weeks ago.

It was stated, according to Mr. Longley, that the matter would be brought to the attention of the grand jury this week and that an effort would be made to obtain an indictment charging Hensarling with aggravated assault and interfering with an officer.

Hensarling is said to have jumped Longley from behind, knocked him down and pummeled him into unconsciousness leaving him in the road. Longley suffered a fracture of the lower jaw and numerous cuts and bruises.

Bryan Boy to Study In the Proschowski School of Music

George Griffin, Bryan's most gifted singer, will leave May 20 for a six weeks study in Kansas City in the Proschowski School of Singing. Frantz Proschowski is director, assisted by Miss Margaret J. Armstrong.

Proschowski is a recognized teacher, whose brilliant American and European reputation has been won solely on performance as a teacher. He is not a stranger to the teaching profession, capitalizing a "name" won in fields entirely different from the highly specialized one of actual voice teaching.

This is the first class Proschowski has conducted in such a central location. Kansas City can be reached from every part of the country conveniently. The class and private lessons will be held on the top floor of the Hotel President, cool, quiet, centrally located.

Bryan friends are predicting great things for young Griffin, who by nature has a voice with great possibilities.

Many A-M Mothers Spend Sunday With Sons at College; Students Put on Program at Guion Hall

(Special to The Eagle)
COLLEGE STATION, May 13.—Mothers and dads from various parts of Texas gathered here Saturday and Sunday for Mothers and Dads Day program held annually at the A. & M. College of Texas. Despite the inclement weather the attendance was reported well up to expectations and the program as scheduled was carried out with little change.

Attendance of visitors was estimated at approximately 500, according to M. L. Cashion, general secretary of the college Y. M. C. A., which had charge of registration. Of these about 350 were women and girls. Guests were accommodated on the campus in Law and Pfeuffer Halls.

Inspection of the college Saturday afternoon, lawn social at the residence of President and Mrs. T. O. Walton that evening and corps dance that night made up the program for Saturday.

Convocation exercises, of which the senior class of the college had charge, were held Sunday morning in Guion Hall. Although the rain interfered somewhat, flowers were pinned to the

Czecho-Slovaks Stage Program On Mothers Day

A bountiful basket dinner and an interesting Mother's Day program were features of an all day meeting held at the C. S. P. S. Hall east of College Station on Sunday.

The stage had been prettily decorated for the occasion with calla lilies, white carnations, sweet peas and wild flowers. A community band furnished music, and readings recitations and addresses made up the program. The principal address was made by Mrs. Joseph Hornak on the subject of "Mother Love." A collection was taken to contribute to the 3,000 Czecho-Slovak children in the city of Vienna, Austria, now war orphans in a foreign country.

NEGRO FARMERS GIVEN DEMONSTRATION IN CONTROL OF RODENTS

Don A. Spencer, employed in the United States Department of Agriculture, accompanied by County Agent C. L. Beason and L. L. Hill, a student of A. and M. College, went with H. K. Hornsberry, negro county agent, to the Canaan community and gave a demonstration of the great damage done by rodents in the county, and also presenting methods of prevention and control.

This is the first of many demonstrations that will be given in the different communities of the county. If these demonstrations are heeded it is certain that many thousands of dollars worth of feed will be saved among the negro farmers of Brazos county.

"I solicit the cooperation of the bankers, merchants, business men and all to help me bring my people, the negro, to the place in the industrial agricultural life that he should attain," says H. L. Hornsberry, negro county agent, who is directing the work of the negro farmers in Brazos county.

Unintentional Suicide

Many people are slowly poisoning themselves just as surely as if they drank iodine every morning for breakfast. They are daily absorbing the toxins, or poisons, created by accumulated waste matter in their constipated digestive systems. Sooner or later disease will conquer their weakened bodies.

If you have dizzy spells, headaches, coated tongue, bad breath, insomnia, no appetite, bilious attacks or pains in the back and limbs, you are probably suffering from self poisoning caused by constipation. The surest and pleasantest relief for this condition is Herbine, the vegetable cathartic which acts in the normal way. Get a bottle today from Roman & Vick.

MORE PAVING WATER MAINS NOW PLANNED

CITY COMMISSION TO HOLD
IMPROVEMENT

Consideration of additional street paving occupied much of the attention of the city commission last night and re-advertisement was ordered of the proposed paving on Baker from College to 21st; 31st from Baker to Ennis; 32nd from College to Groesbeck; 33rd from Polk to Pierce; Pierce from 24th to 26th; Bryan from 26th to 28th; 27th from Tabor to Washington, and 29th from Tabor to Washington. A hearing on the paving will be had by the commission Tuesday, May 28.

The matter of equipment for new city building and the Tabor and Bowie elementary school buildings now being constructed also came up. This matter was referred to a committee including M. A. Burger, D. L. Wilson, O. McKenzie, H. L. Durham and J. Bryan Miller. J. P. Freehand will act in an advisory capacity.

Pipe line extensions also were ordered, the expansion in this service affecting all sections of the city. Additional mains will be laid in the north section if the cotton warehouses install an automatic sprinkler system. East side extensions will be on 26th Street, while those in the south will include the laying of about 2,000 feet to run to Hardy street and give some protection to the oil stations in that section.

The extension of the White Way on Main and 25th was reported completed. The question of a fence to separate the old negro cemetery from the present white cemetery of the city was brought to the attention of the commission by Fred L. Cavitt, representing the cemetery board. The matter was referred to a committee.

Woodville School Closes; Children Awarded Prizes

The Woodville school, three miles north of Bryan, closed today after a very successful eight months term. Thirty-seven children were enrolled during the year in seven grades. Thirty-six remained until the close of the school, one child moving out of the community.

Twenty-three children were promoted. Lena Palazzotto received the prize for making the highest average in the room, 85. Joe Patramella received the prize for perfect attendance, not missing a single day during the year. Three pupils, Dorothy Melensky, Luke Patramella and Charlie Strata got gold stars and a health button from the health nurse for being 100 per cent perfect in physique. This school also received a prize from the health board for being the first rural school in the county to have 100 per cent vaccination against smallpox.

About one hundred dollars was spent this year on the Book of Knowledge and other books for the library.

After handing in the books and getting their report cards the teachers, Mrs. P. A. Tardy, and the trustees, Messrs. Charlie Patramella, John Palazzotto and Tony Lofas, took all the children to the Dixie Theatre for a show to finish up the year's work. Light refreshments were served to all.

Mrs. P. A. Tardy has been re-elected for the 1929-30 school session.

Best made perfect scores for the month, laying an average of one egg each day. The Golden Rule had five hens in this class, two of them being Barred Rocks and three being White Leghorns. The College View farm had one hen in the list, a White Leghorn.

In the list of high records to date the College View farm has the second high pen, ten White Leghorns, with a total of 1,388 eggs for the six month period. The Golden Rule farm stands fifth in this list, with a record of 1,310 eggs for its pen of White Leghorns.

The highest individual record for the six months is held by a White Leghorn hen in the Golden Rule farm pen, that has a total of 162 eggs to its credit. The farm also has another White Leghorn hen that stands in fifth place in the individual contest, with a record of 153 eggs.

COTTON AND—

Industry and today is producing many of the finest beef breeds to be found in the markets of the world. Texas has been an important source of the world's cotton supply. Oil (the liquid gold of modern commerce) has flowed from the bosom of Texas, creating millionaires and meeting the demands of modern industry; and yet the sources of wealth in Texas have been but touched.

New Form of Gold

In recent months a new form of liquid gold has been discovered in Texas. It is not the kind that poorest millionaires over night as oil has been known to do; but responding to consistent business methods it is building more stable business conditions in many sections of Texas, increasing the property valuations and yielding a steady and gratifying income to those who choose the path of adventure. Dairy and poultry production is netting handsome profits to those who are willing to give careful thought and constructive effort to the business of building these industries on well founded economic principles.

Brazos county has learned her lesson as a cotton growing section. Exhausted soil, increased pest hazard, and increased expense for labor and equipment, are some of the items that have cut the margin of profit in cotton production to a point where something has to be done. If agricultural interests and those dependent on agricultural prosperity in cotton producing areas are to move forward with other national economic factors.

More Cotton Per Acre

For Texas to quit the field of cotton production would be little less than disastrous to its social welfare; yet it is evident that some means must be found whereby cotton may be grown and marketed with a greater margin of profit to the farm family and the logical solution appears to be producing more cotton of superior quality on fewer acres of land, combining poultry and livestock with cotton farming in such way as to give a year round income to the farm family. Cotton as a cash crop in addition to what it costs the farm family to live is considered a safe bet; and this is possible if poultry, dairy cows, hogs and other livestock are raised as a means of providing the living expenses throughout the year.

Millions of dollars have been invested in Texas during the past year to establish plants that will furnish a stable and dependable market for an almost limitless production of milk and cream. With everything to gain and nothing to lose, it is quite natural that many sections of the state have gone to work in earnest to build up the dairy industry and get in a position to profit from available markets for the surplus from farm herds.

Cows, feed and folks are going to be the determining factors in this new opportunity open to farm families of Texas. The profits in dairy farming depend on cows that produce milk in paying quantities, feed produced at home and fed to get maximum production from every cow and folks who are willing to work and eager to learn all there is to know about dairy farming.

Development Is Planned

Last week a committee composed of W. E. Graham, Chas. Merka, E. L. Sample and J. J. Jones, Brazos county farmers who are selling dairy products at a profit; J. A. Clutter, dairy expert at A. and M. College; H. H. Williamson vice director of Extension Service and C. Edgar Jones, banker, met and counseled together in an effort to consider the handicaps and possibilities of dairy development here in Brazos county.

As a result of this conference, twelve points were adopted as being essential to any material and lasting progress in this section. By observing the twelve points as outlined, a consistent and conservative program may be carried out and the transition from cotton to "cotton and cows" may be made without disturbing the present schedule of finance and business arrangements.

"Going" into the dairy business involves considerable hazard when a cotton farming schedule has been in force. "Growing" into the dairy business is entirely safe since the change may be made very gradually, with investments, production, market facilities, pasture and feed programs, and herd improvement programs all moving forward in due relation one to the other, so that the farmer may acquire experience in dairy management while his investment is small and allowing herds to be built from young stock rather than from mature animals that would make the initial investment prohibitively heavy.

Learn 12 Points

We repeat the twelve points and suggest that every school boy and girl, every farmer, every business man and every woman in Brazos county who is interested in the future prosperity and progress of this section should become familiar with the essentials of dairy development here:

1. Add a few good milk cows to the present farm operations, and increase the number as experience and profit will dictate.
2. Use cows now on hand that show profitable production and introduce purebreds as opportunity and occasion warrants.
3. Use only registered or pure bred bulls from high producing dams and sires of proved record.
4. Organize bull circles as an economic and effective means of bringing all herds within reach of high grade sires.
5. Secure registration papers on all pure bred animals purchased before final payment is made.
6. Provide bull pastures to control breeding and discourage the keeping of scrub bulls, particularly fence breakers.
7. Breed cows to begin production in September and October for the more dependable and profitable fall and winter market.
8. Sell while cattle markets are good all scrub cows and bulls using the receipts from same to purchase young bulls and heifers that give promise of making better dairy animals.
9. Produce ample feed supplies at home using as a five cow basis, the following: (a) 5 acres in permanent pasture, (b) 5 acres of Sudan grass with 2 1-2 acres of Hegari for late summer feed, (c) 2 1-2 acres of red-top sorghum, sudan, oats, alfalfa or cowpeas to be cut and stored for winter roughage. Alfalfa should be planted in all creek and river bottoms. (d) 10 acres of winter pasture consisting of oats, barley or wheat or a combination of these with hairy vetch. (e) 5 acres of grain, corn, sorghum, barley or oats.
11. Establish collection routes that will make it possible for farmers to get sweet cream to market every day. This should be given immediate attention.
12. Urge adequate laws to prohibit cattle from running at large in Brazos county. This point is essential in any campaign for tick eradication and the control of herd improvement through careful breeding.

Goal 3,000 Milk Cows

Three thousand milk cows exclusive of college and industrial herds is the goal for Brazos county within the next five years. This number of cows producing milk in profitable quantities will mean an increased valuation of farm property, and an increased income for our farm families throughout the entire year instead of over a period of three or four months.

Service clubs, women's clubs, 4-H clubs and schools might well undertake to make a thorough study of the twelve points outlined above, calling on dairy experts, our county and home demonstration agents and teachers of agricultural subjects to bring information of authority so that we may reach a thorough understanding and appreciation of what the dairy business, developed along safe and sane lines will mean to business, social progress and spiritual uplift in Brazos county.

Fertilizes Club Corn

On last Saturday Frank Conaway, club member of the Independence community, put 100 pounds of sulphate of ammonia as a side application to his club acre of corn, 100 pounds of 10-3-3 having been put out before planting. The first fertilizer is already making a fine showing, and now since the heavy application of nitrogen it should show still greater promise. The rows being six feet wide, peas will be planted in each corn middle for soil improvement. Let us not fail to plant peas in corn middles at laying by time in order to improve soil fertility.

Farm Levels Plenty

"With thousands of farm levels scattered over the state and with hundreds of men besides county agents trained to use them, there is no need of botching up a field by running lines by the eye. It just can't be done."—M. R. Bentley of the Extension Service.

Works On Saturday

Last Saturday afternoon—yes, Saturday afternoon—Bud Wilson of the Tabor community was putting out a side application of 100 pounds of nitrate of soda on his corn, 100 pounds of superphosphate and 50 pounds of nitrate of soda having been put out before planting. So far there is no comparison with the fertilized plots with the unfertilized plots, but Mr. Wilson is looking to the final harvest for data that will help him in the future. All Tabor community will profit by this demonstration and test.

Enrollment of club members will close June 1. Therefore, if you desire to share in the "rights, lights and benefits" of club work during 1929, this is to remind you to get your enrollment in right away. Club encampment, Short Course, Dallas Fair, Chicago trip, and many other fine prizes await your achievement as a club member.

Use Calcium Cyanide

As a poison for red ants, calcium cyanide should be used instead of potassium cyanide mentioned in the Eagle last week. If you can not obtain the calcium cyanide locally, it may be obtained of the government through your county agent, one dollar plus express for 5 pounds. In using this poison one should be careful and not breathe the poisonous fumes given off by the powder. One or two tablespoonfuls will likely destroy an ant bed. Put the powder near the entrance of the ant hill and place a tub, or can over the hill so as to force the fumes into hill. This poison will also kill out cut ants, or village ants, rats, gophers, etc.

Fed Milo To Calves

County Agent W. W. Evans, reports that W. D. Williams of Dawson county fed milo to calves, realizing $48 a ton out of his milo when fed to livestock, instead of receiving $17 a ton, the market price.

Home Grown Feeds

If we plan to go into the dairy business of any other livestock undertaking, let us not forget the value of home-grown feed. One and one-half tons of roughage is the minimum need for each dairy cow. Five dairy cows would mean the need of at least seven and one-half tons of roughage, hence one can easily figure the acreage needed in feed stuff.

Tabor Club To Meet

The Boys' and Girls' Club of Tabor will hold a meeting Friday night, according to an announcement made by Lidia Francis, president of the organization.

Mrs. Komer Scores Highly

Among Brazos county club women Mrs. Lawrence Komer has the highest score on home improvement for this year. She has remodeled her kitchen by changing doors and windows. Built-in fixtures have been added and the arrangement has been greatly improved. The dining room has been papered, woodwork finished and rug added.

Enters State Contest

Mrs. Lawrence Komer will represent Brazos county in the state living room improvement contest. She has made a plain room with bare floor and walls into an attractive and comfortable living room. In making improvements Mrs. Komer has kept in mind the principles of room beautification. The floor finish and rugs are deeper in color, the walls are a lighter tone and the ceiling is still lighter. The walls and rugs are neutral in color and with no definite design. This allows the use of appropriate colors in pillows, pictures, flowers and other accessories which she has used in the room. There is not a new piece of furniture in the room other than a home made telephone stool which cost only a few cents and a sewing table which was made partly from an old sewing machine. Comfortable old rockers and a couple sent the musical program. Mrs. W. H. Bivin accompanied Mrs. H. W. Cummings and daughter Clemmie and Miss Anna Rodell to Bryan for the express purpose of entertaining the Lions. Miss Cummings appeared in a piano solo, following with a violin solo, being accompanied at the piano by her mother. Miss Rodell also rendered a piano solo, which was followed by a piano duet by Misses Rodell and Cummings. The various numbers presented by these visitors was highly received by those present and the hearty applause indicated a desire for their return at some future time.

Reams of Publicity

Lion S. E. Eberstadt proudly exhibited a book containing 424 columns of advertising of Bryan, prior to the East Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, which appeared in the various leading newspapers of the State. This wonderful amount of publicity could not have been bought for thousands of dollars, and was the result of the untiring efforts of Publicity Chairman Curtis Vinson of the A. & M. College.

Lion Eberstadt stated that the Chamber of Commerce, at its regular meeting Tuesday, instructed Secretary Eberstadt and City Manager J. Bryan Miller to go to Houston Friday of this week and secure, if possible, the 1930 convention of the League of Texas Municipalities. The Lions Club went on record as heartily endorsing the invitation that is to be extended and a letter to that effect will go forward from the club.

E. Homson was the guest of Lion Morris Schulman and after the luncheon made a "movie" shot of the Lions which is to be included in the new moving picture of Bryan now being made.

Those present were: J. D. Maniatis, M. M. Erskine, J. Bryan Miller, S. E. Eberstadt, E. Homson, M. Schulman, Noah W. Dansby, M. F. Vitopil, Bill Wimberley, Jno. M. Lawrence Jr., Mrs. H. W. Cummings, Mrs. W. H. Bivin, Anna Rodell, Clemmie Cummings, Harry L. Durham, J. Coulter Smith, E. D. Fuller, R. V. Armstrong, Joe Kaplan, Lamar Jones, W. S. Howell, T. O. Walton, Henry S. Locke, Mrs. Roy Danforth, R. C. Franks.

The talks stressed the purpose of the former students' organization keeping graduates of the college together not only for their own enjoyment but for the help made possible through such organization for the college.

"Prof." McDaniel's exposition of the art of magic, in which he pointed out that "the hand is quicker than the eye," proved of much entertainment. His line of patter that never missed a beat during his demonstration of tricks added in no small way to the entertainment.

Arrangements for the affair were in the hands of Mr. McQuillen as secretary of the Association of Former Students in keeping with the custom for such gatherings. President Armstrong of the senior class paid warm tribute to W. A. Duncan, supervisor of subsistence, for the menu and service provided.

board in their effort to improve this mecca for lovers of nature, for in continuing this great undertaking, we are providing not only for today but for future generations a place of real beauty which will be a source of inspiration and of pleasure, a place of clean, wholesome amusement and rest for the tired mind and weary body. A well kept park is an ideal city treasury. The greater the draft upon its resource, the richer the community becomes. Access to its treasures can be had without money or price because its assets are inexhaustible, each citizen can be allowed to draw his own warrant and it will be honored without the countersignature of anybody. Modern man must of course have bread to eat and paved streets on which to travel. Man, however, cannot live on bread and streets alone, he must have recreation and the opening of this public treasure house supplies this need. I do not trust my self to describe this priceless heritage in the future nor to do justice to this subject and for two reasons: first, because the park itself will in due time disclose its treasures as no one else can do; and second, because my enthusiasm for what Tyler Haswell has done and my personal friendship for him would lead me to say a lot of things which he does not want to hear, so I will give the park an opportunity to speak to you for itself. Come out and inspect it, not in the spirit of a casual observer, but with a spirit of gratitude. Let the gift impress you with its greatness. Let the park greet you as more than a mere acquaintance, for you will in return receive great happiness out of friendship with it. Let it fill you with a desire to emulate the unselfish example of the donor.

And as you go on your way resolve to keep a place in your life for this splendid gift, strong in the strength of a well spent yesterday and radiant with the hope of a better tomorrow.

Bryan Citizen.

On May 1 there were 196 regularly organized dairy bull circles in 84 Texas counties and 814 circle bulls, according to county agents and district agents of the Extension Service.
